FUND MANAGEMENT ANALYSIS

MARKET ENVIRONMENT

- May 2025 saw a strong rebound in equity markets after a tumultuous April dominated by trade tensions and a sharp market correction.
- The recovery was fueled in particular by easing trade tensions and a solid earnings season.
- The US rebound was mainly driven by large technology companies. More specifically, more than two-thirds of the gains came from just seven equities: Nvidia, Microsoft, Meta, Broadcom, Amazon, Tesla and Alphabet.
- Taiwan (+12.5%) and Korea (+7.8%) stood out with particularly strong gains.

PERFORMANCE COMMENTARY

- Over the month of May the fund had a positive absolute return and outperformed its benchmark.
- All our sub-themes contributed positively to the overall performance. Industrial Tech & Digital Infrastructure was the largest contributor to performance driven by the performance of Broadcom and Nvidia.
- Within our Tech Materials bucket, Elite Materials and TSMC proved to perform well and were among our largest performance contributors over the month.

OUTLOOK AND INVESTMENT STRATEGY

- In May, we initiated new positions in Mediatek, the Taiwanese designer and manufacturer of semiconductor products for handheld mobile devices. They are the forefront of AI smartphone development, an edge we like as a characteristic for our holdings.
- Over the month we continued to reduce our position in Samsung and Amazon, and added to Lanner and ASML.
- We remain focused on identifying the tech companies at the forefront of innovation and that offer indispensable products and services.
